"Dog, Lady, Spurn, Scorn".

John A. Dix did not hiss Hall's speech as reported in the San Francisco Bulletin, unless he did :

In 1867, when the Hon. Mr. Buchanan was running for Governor, a gentleman came to me and told me that if I did not go into the campaign and make speeches in the Democratic interest, he would oppose my nomination as Governor. I answered that as to his opposition, I should leave it to the people, spurn and scorn it.

Elsewhere we show that in the meeting held presided at Gorham's office and, and ushered him people to vote for the Democratic ticket for Governor in August 1867, a letter from John Bidwell to John A. Sweezy, of Marysville, dated the 23d July 24, 1867," in this letter he declines to accept the nomination for Governor, but he expresses his views on the party which did not nominate him, and offers to aid it by all the means in his power. He closes his letter as follows :

"A new ticket can only be substituted at this late hour with a very strong probability of success. We want the best and only ticket for Gorham, Pitcher and Beerstecher. I say, therefore, to my friends everywhere, come to Sacramento and present such a ticket. I say, therefore, to my friends everywhere, come to Sacramento and present such a ticket. Leave no effort unturned, no sacrifice unmade, that can be consistently made to secure the election of such a ticket. Let the Democracy of the State, and the Democracy of Sacramento, be represented by
